

OVER THE CAPITAL CITY.

Complete Recital of the Day's Deeds and Doings.

The River Open -- Harvest Home -- Hallow E'en -- From Chemawa -- State Cleanings.

Hallow E'en is Coming.

To-morrow night will be the occasion of much fun by both old and young the world over. On that evening, more particularly in the east than in the west, do the people rejoice and be glad. It is then that the ghosts and spooks of generations are supposed to walk the earth as do humans and rejoice also in their ghouliness--when grave yards are to give up their wonted calm and be filled with laugh and shout. Of all nights in the year this is the one for the fiends to do their work. The small boys and their big brothers would not sleep well if they had not, assisted by their sisters, changed Smith's gate for that of Jones, upset Brown's smokehouse, wheeled Applejack's wagon onto Billberry's front porch, hung a saloon sign over the W. C. T. U. door and vice versa. Verily it is a night for pranks and on Thursday morning many a town in the central states will have a forlorn and dilapidated appearance--as though a cyclone had passed over it.

The River is Open Now.

Yesterday evening at half-past six o'clock the coarse whistle of a river steamer informed Salem that navigation was open. The reverberations gladdened many a shippers heart, for they knew that with an open river their products would soon reach a lively market. The first steamer to arrive was the Occident, of the O. R. & N. Co. She draws twenty-two inches of water and reports a deep enough channel for vessels of much heavier draft. The trip from Portland consumed twelve hours in all, but had they not had to wait at the locks for two other boats to pass through they would have been here much sooner. After taking on freight here she at once left for Albany and the upper river, where a partial cargo will be taken on. The captain said that if all went well he expected to reach Salem this evening on the return trip. The boat will have her cargo completed here, which will consist of bran and wheat.

The Outlook Favorable.

Hon. C. W. Fulton, one of the three presidential electors who will cast the electoral vote of Oregon for Harrison and Morton next January, has returned to Astoria from a complete canvass of the entire state. Mr. Fulton reports results fully equalling his most sanguine expectations. Everywhere he spoke he found large audiences, and he believes that the republican majority on Tuesday week will even exceed the great majority in the June election, says the Astorian.

Progress at Chemawa.

Stephen E. Lee of Chemawa was at Seattle last week securing students for the Salem Indian Industrial school. He sent six bright boys off on the Saturday morning train. Mr. Lee says the children earned $1400 this year picking hops. Last year they earned $1500, and bought for the United States eighty-three acres of land, the first instance on record of that kind. More Indian boys and girls will be sent from day to day till the school is filled.

The Bids are Opened.

The bids for the completion of two rooms at the state house were opened this afternoon, and were as follows: Rogers and Southwick, $568.50; J. Benoit, $661.77; Z. Craven, $561.65; John Athey, $511.50. The award of contract will not be made before next week. These rooms are to be completed by the time the legislature convenes, and will perhaps be used as committee rooms.

One Week from To-day.

Only one week from to-day and these glorious United States will be agitated by a presidential election. Campaigning in some places is running fast and furious, but we here in Oregon are taking things easy and unconcernedly. The democrats are resigned to their fate, the prohibitionists hopeful, and the republicans jubilant.

The Corvallis Still Here.

The government snag puller Corvallis is still moored at the wharf in this city undergoing some minor repairs preparatory to making a start up the river. She reported thirty inches behind her as she came up, and it is practicable for light draft boats to make the trip now.

Smallpox Going or Gone.

The young man, Mulligan, who had an attack of varioloid in Salem, has entirely recovered, and the other man who was thought to have taken it from him is all right. For several days it was thought it would result in a case of genuine smallpox, but fortunately it proved to be but varioloid, and he will soon be all right, as all danger is passed, and he is rapidly convalescing.

Miss Baker, who has been down with smallpox at the place of F. X. Matthieu, at Butteville, is reported out of danger, and no new cases have broken out in that neighborhood.

Advices from Champoege are to the effect that two well developed cases of the disease have been reported near there. One is a Chinaman camping with a party of grubbers, the other is an aged Frenchman, who has been wandering around the neighborhood, and who spent a night just previous to his being taken down, in a building occupied by a crew of twenty men who were running a hay baler on the place of J. N. Harding.

At McMinnville there are no more cases, the quarantines raised, schools opened and business once more moving on as before.

War Paint at Chemawa.

General Gordon, U. S. special Indian agent, arrived in the city this morning and proceeded to Chemawa, where he will superintend a rigid inspection of Col. John Lee and his administration. General Gordon is not of the class of inspectors who make quarterly or semi-annual reports of these Indian schools. He comes directly from Washington for the purpose of making a special inspection and is sent by the high authorities to whom the numerous recent complaints were forwarded.

Another Insane Woman.

Mrs. Emma Stayton was brought this afternoon from near Stayton and adjudged insane. She had been visiting friends there and has gradually been losing her mind. Her insanity is suicidal at times and she tries to escape supposed pursuers. Her home is at Black Butte, Crook county. She was taken to the asylum.

He Sold Whisky to Indians.

James King was this afternoon arraigned before Judge Walton of the U. S. court on the charge of selling whisky to Indians. He was bound over and will have the pleasure of reporting in Portland to answer. He could give no bail and was taken to jail. The offence was committed in this city.

Salem, Oregon, April 10. I have just been cured of quite a severe attack of catarrh of the bladder and stricture of the urethra, mainly by the use of a couple of boxes of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can therefore recommend the tea as a valuable remedy for diseases of the kidney and urinary organs. L. WILLIS. Sold by D. W. Matthews & Co.

Considerable excitement was created this morning by the announcement that the wife of a well known Salem business man had eloped with her husband's clerk, but investigations revealed the fact she had only gone hurriedly to Squire Farrar & Co's to catch some of those splendid bargains in groceries, etc.

Do you feel dragging sensations in the back and loins, are you troubled with weakness, dizziness at the pit of the stomach? Are you nervous or irritable? If so we would advise you to try Oregon Kidney Tea, (purely vegetable.) It never fails to effect a permanent cure of kidney and urinary complaints. Sold by D. W. Matthews & Co.

Senator Hearst's First Dime.

"When I was a youngster," said senator Hearst, "I lived with my parents out in Missouri. We were all poor in those days, and I scarcely knew what money was except by name. Finally a visitor at our house presented me with ten cents. I think I was the happiest boy in the neighborhood. I used to lie awake at night considering how I could spend it so as to get the best return. One day I lost it between a high hill and my father's house, about 300 yards distant. I think I searched every foot of that ground a dozen times over, but that money was gone and I never found it. It is painful to me at this moment to recall my grief at its disappearance. Since then I have lost money in larger sums, which have nearly bankrupted me, but they never caused me half the unhappiness that the loss of my first ten cents did."--N. Y. Herald.

OCCIDENTAL JOTTINGS.

News And Notes of a General Interest to the Westerner.

Pendleton is trying to raise a subsidy for Hunt's railroad. On Friday a committee secured $7000 in a short time.

It is reported that Mrs. J. Hoffman of Bandon has fallen heir to $60,000 from an uncle recently deceased.

Raymond Burkhart, one of Linn county's well known pioneers, died on Saturday evening at his home near Lebanon, aged 71 years.

There are 21,000 acres of vacant school lands in Harney valley, north of the lakes, and 7000 acres of good timber lands that are school lands.

The voters of Lake county will decide at the November election whether or not the county shall issue $10,000 in bonds and with the proceeds purchase and fit up a poor farm.

A number of vigorous protests have been forwarded to the Interior Department showing the injustice of locating the office of Harney Land District other than in Harney valley.

The recent rains have raised the water in the Nooksack river beyond the high-water mark of the past two years, and the farmers in the valley have suffered the loss of fences and fruit trees.

The Willamette is now navigable, and the farmers are at last glad to be able to be afforded a market and shipping facilities for their wheat, hops, etc. Salem is lively since the river opened.

Over forty head of cattle have perished recently in Summer Lake valley from blackleg and stock-raisers there who inoculate with asafetida find it a good preventive and also a pretty sure cure.

A through train of 16 cars of hops left Seattle over the Puget Sound Shore railroad Sunday for New York. Each car contains 75 bales, averaging 200 pounds each, and the train load will aggregate a value of nearly $50,000.

A pension, the first payment of which amounts to $12,000, has been granted to Solomon W. Hardesty, late private of company M, Seventh Missouri volunteers, cavalry, who now resides at Needy, Clackamas county, Oregon.

The Southern Pacific, anticipating a tremendous rush to this coast as soon as the election is over, is making the preparations for the greatest business this winter it has ever done. With the eastern connections already arranged, the trip from New York to San Francisco can be made in just five days.

A Walla Walla soldier recently deserted. When he deserted, he weighed 200 pounds, and when found was reduced nearly half his weight. He had subsisted for 168 days on watercress and chokeberries within sight of the post, and as well can be imagined, the strange freak on his part is creating a sensation in Walla Walla.

Thirteen-year-old George Hanlon, who was convicted for complicity in a robbery at Portland, for which he was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year, and who has since asked Judge Stearns to remove the embargo from his sentence and commit him to prison, his mother seconding the strange request, was yesterday removed from the county jail to a dark cell in the upper portion of the city jail, where he will be kept until further orders from the agent of the Boys and Girls' Aid Society, who has determined to bring the obstinate youth to terms.

Why will you go about with that listless air and sad face? Have you no life, no ambition? You seem to care nothing for what transpires around you. The beauties of nature do not interest you, and you feel that life is a burden. If you would have the vigor and elasticity of youth return, enjoy a good hearty meal, and feel like an altogether different person, then take Dr. Hemeny's Dandelion Tonic. It certainly produces remarkable results. Sold by D. W. Matthews & Co.

Dr. H. SMITH

Now in possession of a new discovery in medicine, which is purely a local anesthetic, and acts almost instantaneously on the surrounding tissues of the teeth. It is in no way injurious or unpleasant to the taste. The manufacturers of it claim that its equal has never been known before, and by applying it to the sensitive or sore teeth, they can be cleaned and filled without pain. So all those that want all kinds of dental work done without pain, would better call on Dr. H. Smith. Teeth extracted for 50 cents.
